

NATIONS ACCEPT U. S. PLAN TO CUT NAVIES

DISCUSSION OF DETAILS BEGINS

Compromises Will Have to Be Reached on Several Points of Hughes Proposal

FAR EAST COMES UP

Problem Will Be Given First Consideration at Executive Meeting Today

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 15.—Formally accepting "in principle and spirit" the American proposals for reducing and limiting naval armaments, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan today pledged their adherence and began discussions of details.

Japan wants more than 60 per cent, as compared to the United States and Great Britain, which the original proposal would allow her.

France and Italy want to be taken into consideration at the outset and not wait for disposal of the question as it effects the Big Three. Moreover, both France and Italy feel that they should be permitted to increase rather than decrease their sea forces and bring them up to a figure comparable with what is being allowed the others.

Great Britain, as previously outlined, wants the replacement program spread over a period of years rather than taken up at the end of a ten year holiday, and she wants further reduction and definite limitation of submarines.

Naval Committee in Session.

After a session of little more than an hour, the conference, after hearing addresses of general acceptance by Arthur J. Balfour, for the British; Baron Admiral Kato, for Japan; Senator Schanzer for Italy and Premier Briand for France, adjourned to meet again at the call of Secretary Hughes, and the newly-appointed committee on naval armament went into secret session.

The result of the latter meeting was a decision to refer the matter of naval limitation to a committee of admirals to be presided over by Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, which will make an expert report on the American proposals, and also make recommendations for amendments of details. The committee was authorized to consider fixing the naval strength of Italy and France at the same time with the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

While the technical advisers wrestle with the armament problem and the delegates themselves continue informal conversations on the American plan, the other big subject of the conference the Far Eastern problem, will be given its first formal consideration at an executive meeting tomorrow of the delegations of all the nine interested nations. Tonight, every one of the delegations was in a waiting attitude toward the Far Eastern question, and if any nation had a compromise plan of settlement to present at the outset it was carefully concealed.

Great Britain Takes Lead.

The lead in accepting the principle of the American naval proposal was taken in today's meeting of the conference by Great Britain, whose historic naval supremacy would eventually give way to an equality of strength with the United States. If the plan became an actuality, Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation, announced the British acceptance in a speech that stirred the emotions of delegates and spectators and started a discussion in which diplomatic cards were laid on the table in a manner unprecedented in national conferences.

While the hall still echoed with applause for the speech of the British statesman, the chief delegate of Japan, Admiral Baron Kato was on his feet to pledge the readiness of the island empire of the east to proceed with "sweeping reductions" in her fleet. Senator Schanzer for Italy and Premier Briand for France added in their turn a pledge of co-operation in the program laid down by the United States.

Mr. Balfour alone made specific mention of some of the modifications that would be suggested as the negotiations progressed. Reduction of the figure set as a maximum of submarine tonnage was the project on which he insisted, but later members of the British group elaborated the suggestions they had to put forward somewhat as follows:

Speeches of Allied Leaders Endorsing American Plan

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 15.—Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation, was the first to accept "in principle" Secretary Hughes' plan for reducing naval armaments and was followed in rotation by Admiral Kato of Japan, Senator Schanzer of Italy and Premier Briand of France. Mr. Balfour said in part:

"You have invited those who desired it to continue the discussions which began on Saturday last. I think it very unfortunate if we are to allow the events of Saturday to pass without some further observation.

"And if for reasons which I venture to explain I am the first to take up the challenge it is because of all members here assembled, the country which I represent is most intimately interested in all naval questions.

"Statements of all countries are beginning to discover that the labors and difficulties of peace are almost as arduous as those required by the conduct of a successful war.

"Many in my audience," he said, "are citizens of the United States. The United States stands solidly impregnable, with the lines of its communications protected, completely protected—from any conceivable hostile attack.

"It is not merely that you have 110,000,000 people; it is not that you are the wealthiest nation. The geographical position of your country makes you wholly immune from the perils to which the British empire is subjected.

"Suppose your western states were suddenly removed 10,000 miles across the sea; suppose you found that the heart of your country was a small and crowded island depending on overseas trade, depending on overseas communication for raw materials. Suppose your population never had more than seven weeks' food and that this had to be replenished from overseas?

Sea Communication Vital to Us.

"Then you will understand why it is that every citizen of the British empire, no matter where he lives, never can forget that it is by sea communication that he lives and that without it he cannot live.

"These references I have indulged in to explain why I am addressing you. We have considered the great scheme laid before you by our chairman. We have considered it with admiration and approval. We agree with it in spirit and in principle. We look to it as being the basis of the greatest reform in the matter of armament and preparation for war that has ever been conceived or carried out.

"I don't pretend of course that this or any other scheme can deal with every subject. As was most clearly explained by the secretary of state, the scheme deals, and deals only with the three nations which own the largest fleets at present in the world. It therefore of necessity omits all consideration for the time being of the European nations who have diminished their fleets and have at present no desire, and I hope never will have a desire, to possess fleets beyond the necessities that national honor and national defense require. It does not touch the heavy burden of land armament. What it does do is one of the biggest things that has ever yet been done by constructive statesmanship. It does deal with the three great fleets of the world and with the proportion of disarmament which it lays down for those fleets.

"Taking the battleships as a basis," said Mr. Balfour, "we think the propositions between the various countries are acceptable. We think the limitation of amounts is reasonable. We think it should be accepted. We believe thoroughly it will be accepted."

Mr. Balfour suggested that the submarine tonnage might well be reduced and that possibly construction of large submarines should be prohibited.

The suggestions for changes in the proposals, Mr. Balfour said, amid applause, would not affect "the main structure" proposed by the United States, which he said, he believed would be accepted.

"When Mr. Briand promised the 'full, loyal and complete cooperation' of the British nation toward the general American plan, the audience rose and applauded for a half minute.

Text of Admiral Kato's Address.

The official text of Admiral Kato's address as delivered by his interpreter follows:

"Japan deeply appreciates the sincerity of purpose evident in the plan of the American government for the limitation of armaments. She is satisfied that the proposed plan will materially relieve the nations of wasteful expenditures and cannot fail to make for the peace of the world.

"She cannot remain unmoved by the high aims which have actuated the American project. Gladly accepting, therefore, the proposal in principle, Japan is ready to proceed with determination to a sweeping reduction in her naval armament.

"It will be universally admitted that a nation must be provided with such armaments as are essential to its security. This requirement must be fully weighed in the examination of the plan. With this requirement in view, certain modifications will be proposed with regard to the tonnage basis for replacement of the various classes of vessels. This subject should be referred to special consideration by naval experts. When such modifications are proposed I know that the American and other delegations will consider them with the same desire to meet our ideas as we have to meet theirs.

"Japan has never claimed nor has intention of claiming to have a general establishment equal in strength to that of either the United States or the British empire. Her existing plan will show conclusively that she had never in view preparations for offensive war."

Italian Government Approves Plan.

Speaking for Italy, Senator Schanzer told the conference the American plan had the general approval of his government.

"You prove at once that you mean to carry out your suggestions," he said. "We wish to express in the name of the Italian delegation our approval."

In conclusion the Italian spokesman said the details of the plans primarily were a matter for the naval experts but added that he had confidence that the principles would bring a successful result not only for the nations in the conference but for all those of the world.

FRANCE URGES ARMY DECISION

Settlement of This Question Far More Vital to Country Than Sea Power

U. S. NOT CONCERNED

Our Land Force Is Already Far Below Authorized Strength of 150,000 Men

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 15.—France took the first step today toward bringing the question of land armaments, of armies, before the Washington conference.

In concurring for France in the essential principles of the American proposals regarding naval establishments, Premier Briand touched upon the army problem as far more vital to France. By agreement, M. Briand, probably at a public session of the conference later this week, will present "most fully," as Secretary Hughes stated, "the views of France with regard to the subject of land armaments which we must discuss."

France Wants Peace.

There was no intimation in the remarks of M. Briand that he had a definite plan for reduction of armaments to suggest. He did say, however, that he was satisfied that the conference should be convinced "that France, after the necessities of safety and life have been adequately secured, harbors no thought whatever of disturbing the peace of the world."

M. Briand's statements were construed generally as showing his purpose to explain fully why France regards it as necessary to retain the great force in her armies. As the nation with the largest army, the premier pointed out today, it was appropriate for her to take that question up, but neither at the conference nor in any other quarter. His suggestion that any such sweeping proposal for reduction of armaments is to be expected as the naval plan put forward by the United States.

So far as the United States is concerned, the army question is largely academic. The American army, now far below its authorized strength of 150,000 men, is out to the bone. Further reduction would be opposed by both civil and military chiefs of the department and the American plan of army reduction will be presented and it may be that there will only be nominal discussion of the subject.

As it now stands, the American army is looked upon by its leaders as no more than a national police force for which there is always need.

FRANCE, JAPAN, ITALY ALL FEEL NAVIES CAN'T BE CUT

Washington, Nov. 15.—Japan feels that her ratio of warship tonnage is not high enough under the American proposals, it was said tonight by members of the Japanese delegation. During Admiral Baron Kato's speech at the preliminary session of the armament conference today, his statement that Japan would suggest some modifications in the tonnage basis for replacement caused some speculation as to whether it referred to regulating the capacity of shipyards so that new warships could be built regularly or whether it meant that Japan favored a higher ratio of tonnage compared with the United States and Great Britain.

Tonight's statement clears up this point and shows that Japan will later put forward the factors which lead her to believe that some increase of tonnage should be afforded her. How much increase is desired was not explained tonight, but emphasis was laid on the special conditions surrounding Japan as an insular power in need of an adequate defensive fleet.

Practical considerations are said to be behind the attitude of Japan, going vessel of great size so as to be habitable for her crew. There were decided expressions against the British idea that by limiting size the submarines could be tied down to defensive operations in their own home waters. To agree to such a plan, it was said, would be to sacrifice a weapon the United States has every reason to retain.

As to the suggestion in British circles that submarines are not a proper weapon for naval warfare, the American view is that the use of submarines in warfare is a question aside from that now being discussed. It will, may be some officers say, that a code of rules to govern submarine warfare, preventing "sinking without warning" and similar barbaric practices in which Germany engaged, may be adopted. Provision is made on the agenda of the conference for that and for aircraft and gas warfare rules.

TAXATION PENALIZES THRIFT, SAYS HAYS

Postmaster General Declares Future Federal Revenues Must Be Provided in Some Other Way

New York, Nov. 15.—Future federal revenues must be provided in some way other than by taxation, "which penalizes thrift" and "destroys the incentive to save," Postmaster General Will H. Hays declared tonight in an address before the Fifth Avenue association.

Mr. Hays told his hearers that the United States should adopt a system of taxation that would combine the virtue of being an encouragement rather than a deterrent to initiative, while safeguarding the earning power of labor and insuring a citizen's right to the enjoyment of wealth.

"This country cannot go on, and must not go on indefinitely during peace time with either the forms or degree of taxation devised to meet the emergency of war," he said.

"Between the man who consumes the product of his day's work as fast as he creates it, and the man who practices self-denial—saves part of his day's earnings and puts it in the savings bank or in other forms of investment—between these two it is the business of wise government to tax the former rather than the latter. Our present system of taxation destroys the incentive to save."

"In addition to a sane moderate income tax, I most earnestly favor a 'sales tax' or a 'production tax' or a 'turnover tax' or whatever you choose to call a system which taxes the consumption of goods rather than abstention from the consumption of goods."

WOUNDS PROFESSOR, THEN KILLS SELF

Unbalanced Student at McGill University Attempts to Murder Medical Instructor

Montreal, Nov. 15.—Sir Andrew McPhail, professor of medical history at McGill university, was shot in the right shoulder today in his private office by Louis Ogunkin, son of a prominent tailor, who then turned his revolver upon himself, dying instantly.

Professor McPhail did not lose consciousness and telephoned for an ambulance, which bore him to a hospital, where the bullet was extracted. His condition is not serious.

Ogunkin was described by his brother, who identified the body, as having suffered from hallucinations for some time. The dead man was said to have known Professor McPhail personally.

"Four shots were fired following an altercation," police said. The first went wild, the second struck the medical man in the right shoulder as he turned to flee. Then Ogunkin fired two shots, one into his own chest and the other into his head.

WELL-KNOWN ALBANY HOTEL MAN TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

Albany, Nov. 15.—Temple commandery, Knights Templar, will conduct the funeral of Alfred Houghtaling Rennie, manager of the Ten Eyck hotel, who died yesterday. The services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m., at the Masonic temple. Many prominent Albanians and a number of hotel men from other cities are planning to attend. Masons will be heartily.

The body will be accompanied by Knights Templar of Albany to Coeymans where burial will take place. Temple commandery conducting the burial service at the grave.

whose representatives reiterated tonight that she has no ambition whatsoever to equal the navy of England or the United States. The prohibitive developments of science in increasing the mobilization power of a fleet to distant waters in an offensive, the presence of naval bases near the shores of Japan, and the augmented mobilization power of an adversary's fleet when reduced in units all enter into the Japanese mind as indicating the wisdom of a higher ratio than 6 to 10.

French and Italian Views.

French and Italian navy experts making an extensive study of how limitations to be imposed on the United States, Great Britain and Japan would come to their own conclusion that their navy forces should be increased rather than reduced.

The Italian viewpoint, as it prevails among their experts, is that Italy should be permitted to have a navy as large as that of France and, in any event, on a ratio of 8 to 10.

The naval question, as it affects Italy and France, is not now under discussion, having been reserved by the conference until the status of the United States, Great Britain and Japan can be disposed of.

Experts of both countries point out that during the World War Italy and France devoted themselves almost entirely to strengthening their armies and did little for their navies.

Among the Italians, there is a strong party urging a complete agreement with France to reduce both navies to a large part of their military needs. It is pointed out that the two fleets united would dominate the Mediterranean while the combined armies might be relied upon to face any attack upon them.

The suggested increase will probably affect all classes, including submarines. The Japanese expressed confidence that the committee of experts would come to their own conclusion that a ratio adjustment would not in any way materially affect Japan's blanket acceptance of the American proposal.

83 "SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE" DISILLUSIONED, COME HOME

New York, Nov. 15.—Disillusioned as to the vaunted romantic life of soldiers of fortune, 83 men, all Latin Americans except three, who were American war veterans, returned today from Spain where they went several months ago seeking adventure as members of the Spanish Foreign Legion.

None of the party joined the Spanish army to fight the Moors, and all except three returned in the steamer quarters of the Spanish Royal Mail steamship Montecarlo.

One of the men said that volunteers in the Spanish army were required to provide their own uniforms, rifles and other equipment and to pay for their meals, laundry and other expenses, in return for the equivalent of 60 cents a day.

HANNA'S FIANCEE SUES FOR ESTATE

Claims Will of Late Cleveland Publisher Leaves Her Annuity of $25,000

White Plains, Nov. 15.—Miss June Avis Evans, who claims to have been engaged to the late Daniel R. Hanna, millionaire Cleveland publisher, today began proceedings indicating her intention to sue for a share in the estate estimated at his death to be worth $100,000. Mr. Hanna's will, which was filed here yesterday, divided the bulk of his estate between his three sons, provision having been made for his daughters in his lifetime and no bequests having been made to his four divorced wives.

The will, executed on August 11, 1920, consists of four typewritten pages. There were two interlineations both later imperfectly blotted out and marked "canceled." In the testator's handwriting. One of these referred to giving his country estate, "The Croft," and a large amount of personal property to his son, Daniel R.

Another blotted-out paragraph in the will, which was later cancelled, read through the blue, saying: "I hereby intend to marry Miss June Avis Evans," then several words are illegible and the paragraph ends, "should I die before such marriage takes place, I instruct my executors to provide a trust." (Then more blotted-out text follows.)

Attorneys for Miss Evans today obtained permission to photograph the will. They claim that the instrument leaves to Miss Evans an annuity of $25,000 in addition to the country estate, "The Croft," and a large amount of personal property. Miss Evans and Mr. Hanna were to be married as soon as the latter was legally free to do so, according to one of the petitioner's attorneys, who called attention to the fact that the alleged cancellation of the bequest to Miss Evans was not witnessed and therefore illegal, adding that every attempt would be made to secure for Miss Evans the bequest for which she is contending.

Auburn Prisoners Found UNDER PILE OF SCRAP IRON

Auburn, Nov. 15.—John Fichera, Paolo Orino and other fugitives, all from Rochester, who stowed away yesterday in the prison, were found today hiding under a pile of scrap iron in one of the shops. They dug a deep pit, supplied themselves with food to last two weeks and with silencers made from knives taken from the prison mess hall, erected a roof over which confederates among the prisoners had piled the prison scrap iron pile. They evidently planned to stay there until the prison officers believed that they had gone over the wall after which they would reappear in the night and make good their escape.

They were found by keepers this morning after a careful search. Fichera and Orino are both murderers serving 20 years sentences and Castiglione is serving not less than two years for outraging an Italian girl.

PRINCETON HONORS FOCH AS SHE DID LAFAYETTE

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 15.—Standing on the steps of Nassau hall, where nearly a century ago Lafayette received a doctor, Marshal Foch, on whom had just been conferred the honor doctor of laws, by Princeton university, today greeted faculty, undergraduates, American legation and townsfolk. The marshal gave a simple message of greeting and expressed wishes for a brighter future of the world.

Escorted by President Hibben of the university, Marshal Foch walked through a cheering crowd at the station to an automobile, while the guns of the university artillery unit boomed out their salute. The ceremony of conferring the degree was brief and after greeting the townspeople assembled on the campus, the distinguished visitor left for Philadelphia.

PROBATIONERS MAKE GOOD.

New York, Nov. 15.—Ninety per cent of all prisoners put on probation in New York state make good and never are brought into court again, Cornelius E. Collins, justice of the children's court of New York city, today told delegates to the fourteenth annual conference of state probation officers.

HYLAN FIGHTS TRANSIT PROBE

SERVICE A "MESS"

Disregarding Protests, State Commission Reveals Bad Condition of Transit Lines

New York, Nov. 15.—Over the protests of Mayor Hyland and other Democratic office-holders re-elected last week, the State Transit commission today began public hearings to reveal "what is going wrong" in the transportation facilities of New York and in and to point the way to untangling of 80-odd lines and a general rehabilitation of surface, elevated and subway systems.

The Mayor criticized the "traction interests," who, he said in a letter to Corporation Counsel O'Brien, were endeavoring to unload milked-dry, worn-out surface lines on the public that wouldn't take them as a gift.

"Fight these interests every inch of the way and protect the people's rights," the Mayor told the corporation counsel.

The corporation counsel immediately began to fight. He sent a message to the transit commission demanding the inquiry be stopped until after the legislature convened and acted on a bill seeking repeal of the act which created the commission.

With powers to clear up the muddled traction situation here. This bill, introduced by "representatives of the city and people of New York," will contend that the act was unconstitutional, said Mr. O'Brien's message.

Commission Disregards Protests.

Dock Commissioner Hubbert joined the protesters by sending a telegram asking the Mayor that the election last Tuesday be referred to Governor Miller's transit program and asserting that "real home rule means the right to manage our own transit affairs."

Apparently not exercised by these criticisms, the commission went on adding evidence. In short, it showed that the chance of seeing a seat on a subway, or a trolley becomes a nightmare every day while the host of strap-hangers grows and becomes more crowded.

Half a billion more passengers were carried on traction lines here during the fiscal year ended last June than in 1918, a 25 per cent increase, yet our mileage grew only five per cent, statistics presented before the commission by its experts revealed.

Expenditures for maintenance had not increased proportionately, delays due to derailments and faulty, ill-kept equipment are more frequent each year, and because of the abolition of free transfers at many points in the city about 257,000,000 passengers who used to ride for a nickel from point of origin to destination now must pay a two-cent transfer charge, sometimes two whole fares, or two whole parts of the way. This was the interpretation made of the day's evidence by the commissioners and their special counsel, Clarence J. Shearn.

Mr. Shearn said absence of any effort to bring relief during the past three years had greatly impaired transit service. Entire communities within the city have been practically deprived of service through compulsory suspension of cars on the bus and trolley lines, and the maintenance of trolley systems had been deplorably neglected.

More than 1,000 franchises affecting transit lines in New York have been uncovered, with varying terms and fare provisions. The commission expects to unify the lines into three great systems and eliminate many superfluous officials, Mr. Shearn indicated.

AGREE ON EXCISE, SOFT DRINK TAXES

Conferees on Tax Revision Bill Strike Out Four Per Cent Levy on Toilet Articles

Washington, Nov. 15.—Agreement on excise and soft drink taxes was reached today by the house and senate conferees on the tax revision bill. After striking out the senate proposal for a four per cent manufacturers' tax on perfumes, essences, extracts, toilet waters and the like, the managers agreed to the excise taxes as finally approved by the senate.

Manufacturers' taxes on soft drinks, to be in lieu of the present levies, were agreed upon as follows:

Upon all beverages derived wholly or in part from cereals, two cents a gallon.

Upon all unfermented fruit juices intended for consumption as beverages with the addition of water and sugar, and upon all imitations of such juices, and upon all carbonated beverages except cereal, two cents a gallon.

Upon all still drinks, except pure apple cider, two cents a gallon.

Upon all natural or artificial mineral waters, table waters, sold by the producer at more than 12 1/2 cents a gallon, two cents a gallon.

Upon all carbonic acid gas sold for use in the preparation of soft drinks, four cents a pound.

Upon all finished or fountain syrups for use in compounding soft drinks, nine cents a gallon.

After limiting the admissions to moving picture shows, the conferees agreed to the senate amendment providing that no admission tax shall be collected where the charges do not exceed ten cents.

BAD BLOOD RUINS COMPLEXIONS

Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich, Red Blood—Liquid or Tablets

The woman whose complexion is unattractive and almost sallow has blood that is clogged with poisons. She awakens in the morning with a languid feeling. She seems to have no energy at all.

Her blood is weak and thin and she needs to take Gude's Pepto-Mangan for a while, as thousands of women do when they feel run down. It makes rich, red blood. Where blood was thin and weak it becomes rich and red. Then that woman who has had such a bad complexion and has found it so hard to do things, begins to look a lot better. She doesn't look so drabby and tired. In a little while she looks on her face brightens, her complexion clears up, and she feels happier.

The druggist in your neighborhood sells Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It has been recommended by doctors for years. There is the brand and label form. Take your choice because the medicinal value is the same. The name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on each package.

Something New in a Christmas Club

We have originated a new and novel plan whereby ANYONE CAN OWN A MOTOR CAR by merely laying aside a few pennies now and then.

This plan is going to be put into effect as a CHRISTMAS CLUB. EVERYONE SHOULD OWN A CAR instead of blowing in their money for cigars, candy, movies, etc.

Make up your mind that this Christmas will see you the proud owner of a car. If you don't want it delivered before spring, it's all the same, only so you join the club now and take advantage of this unusual proposition.

ONLY FIFTY MEMBERS CAN JOIN, so act now, and come to our store and have the plan explained in detail.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"Some time, possibly weeks," the Japanese representatives are reported to be saying, must elapse before the naval experts of that nation are ready to report definitely as to the advisability of accepting the Hughes proposals. If disarmament of Japan is to be left entirely to her naval experts, immediate progress on her part is hardly to be expected. However, Japan has always been the uncertain quantity in these negotiations and it is not improbable that the final acquiescence of that kingdom may depend on how much quiet certain the other Allies may be able to exert.

The contractors in New York city evidently are beginning to feel the drawing power of the Sherman anti-trust law so far as their combination as to prices and non-competitive contract figures are concerned. At any rate fifty-four out of sixty-five who had been indicted pleaded guilty on Monday and some of the other corporations had been dissolved and gone out of business.

Fourteen governors of states, in reply to a request from the New York Tribune, have wired their enthusiastic approval of the Hughes plan for the limitation of armaments and doubtless every other governor will follow in the same line. In their approval they are unquestionably following the line of public sentiment. One of the messages was from Governor Work of Oregon. Interest will be felt in the replies of the governors of Washington and California, the two other Pacific states, since these more than any other commonwealths are interested in the Japanese question.

A bill which will interest all mothers of sons whose lives were lost in the World War and whose bodies have not been brought home, was introduced in congress Monday by Senator Jones of Washington. It proposes that a flag be presented to each of these mothers as a tangible memorial in honor of the lost soldier and as a token of the burial service. The plan was inaugurated by Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, founder of the Mothers' Day movement.

The father of the public health movement in the United States is Dr. Stephen Smith, and on Monday he was guest of honor at the semi-centennial celebration of the American Public Health association, which he organized in 1871. Dr. Smith is now 90 years of age and is proof of his own rules of health. He lives on bread and milk and walks a mile every day.

Woman in the ministry dates back only to 1853, and while the number of women now actively engaged in the work is not large, the fact that a woman is becoming a preacher now excites little more interest than that she has graduated as a physician, less even than that she has become a policeman. The above is suggested by the fact that Antoinette Brown Blackwell, who was the first ordained woman minister, died last week at the age of 96 years. There are, in fact, many living who have seen not only the beginning of woman's work in the ministry, but in practically every profession which formerly was considered a strictly male prerogative.

Recently published correspondence between President Harding and Carl Bronner, a married soldier, has significance far out of the ordinary. Bronner lost both hands and the sight of both eyes in the World war, yet he declined to be daunted by these handicaps. Instead, he entered the Red Cross Institute for the Blind at Baltimore, and along with other acquisitions mastered a specially constructed typewriter and has recovered the power of expressing himself on paper. A letter written by him to President Harding brought a sympathetic response from the latter, which is of special significance at the time when the chief executive is entering upon a task of world-wide significance. "It is a mighty blow," writes the President, "to suffer the loss of one's vision and the loss of one's hands, and to have such gratifying evidence of your ability to express yourself through a typewriter has brought to me a real spirit of helpfulness when there are problems which seem exceedingly difficult."

Ladies Aid Entertained.

A most delightful meeting of the February division of the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church was held last evening at the home of Mrs. A. G. Russell, 235 Main street, about 60 members and their friends finding much to their enjoyment the program rendered by members of the society and the entertainment provided by the hostesses. The program consisted of humorous readings and sketches by Mrs. Herbert Ryndes, Miss Claire Groh, Miss Marie Wendling and Miss Marie Henderson. The various numbers were excellently rendered and were heartily applauded.

Following the entertainment delicious refreshments were served concluding an evening much enjoyed by all. The hostesses were Mrs. A. G. Russell, Mrs. B. C. Packer, Mrs. Herbert Ryndes and Mrs. A. C. Lange.

CONCERNING DISARMAMENT

New York Herald.

While other governments before and since the war have talked about the wisdom and humanity and necessity of restricting the temptations to war, and while nations and races have prayed through the generations and centuries for the elimination of war, no great country until now has stood forth with a specific plan to do the actual work of pulling war itself steadily into the background by gradually removing from the hands of nations the weapons of war.

Again the force of the Hughes proposal, as the whole world gets it, is that it comes from a country which is better able to build and support stupendously costly military machines than any other country is.

Springfield Republican.

This only emphasizes that from the beginning has been obvious enough, that a naval holiday in itself is not sufficient. It is worth while even if no more can at present be achieved, because it relieves a pressing financial burden and postpones an imminent danger. It gives a breathing space during which, if the world is wise, the crisis can be prevented from recurring when the ten years expire. But the temporary relief thus afforded must not be allowed to dull the mind and conscience of the nations to the duty of going on with measures to reduce permanently the risk of war.

Watertown Standard.

These are the two fundamental factors which will underlie in the discussions at the conference. All want disarmament. Can they agree upon fundamental principles to such an extent that armament may no longer be necessary? We earnestly hope and pray that they may. The American people will go far to reach a result earnestly prayed for by all the civilized people of the earth. What a bright upon civilization war is. Success to the conference.

New York World.

Come what may, the American proposal is itself an accomplished historic fact. It cannot be recalled. It will be forgotten. There should be no question of legislative support. Judging by the hearty praise of men of both parties in congress, there will be none. What form response in the country will take we do not need to ask. No man can read in advance the verdict of his home town.

Utica Press.

This ought to be all the easier of accomplishment because the memory of the great war is still fresh and vivid in the international mind. It need not be recalled because it intrudes itself and is in evidence at every turn. By going at it man-fashion at the very opening of the conference to present the real live question in the honest, earnest effort for achievement, Americans are proud of the stand taken by their delegates and it deserves the approval of the world as well as the adoption of the conference.

Scranton Republican.

The adoption of the American plan would allay the spirit of imperialism in Europe and Asia, remove the menace of invasion, lessen the burden of the people who are heavily taxed for the construction of costly dead-weights, enable the European countries to devote money now used in building capital ships to payment of their debts to the United States, and, above all, it would aid more than anything else to promote and perpetuate tranquility among the nations of the earth.

New York Times.

Since cave men began to make war clubs and fashion stone hatchets there has been nothing like this in all history. save only the Rush-Bagot "arrangement" in 1817, when we agreed with Great Britain that on Champlain and the Great Lakes there should be "on each side" only four vessels not exceeding 100 tons each and carrying one 18-pound gun. That "arrangement" was voluntary, like the program Mr. Hughes now submits to the conference; other ordinances of disarmament have been imposed by victors in war.

ONEONTA GIRL MARRIED.

Miss Julia Brainard Becomes Bride of Alfred H. Carson.

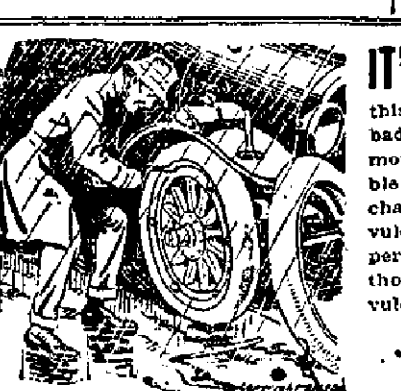

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Brainard of 40 London avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Julia Brainard, to Alfred H. Carson of Caldwell, N. J. The marriage took place in New York city on Saturday, November 12.

The bride, who is a native of this city and a graduate of the Oneonta State Normal school, taught for several years after graduation and last year in Shreveport, La. She was also much interested in newspaper work and has done excellent service with The Star and as special writer on the staff of several other papers, among them the Ohio State Journal and the Toledo Blade. More recently she has been taking a special course in Columbia university.

Mr. Carson is a reporter on the New York Evening Telegram. At the outbreak of the war he gave up his newspaper duties and enlisted in France and afterwards with the army of occupation in Germany. On his return he resumed his journalistic work. Many friends in Oneonta will join The Star in best wishes to the bride and in congratulations to the fortunate groom.

The party is known who took the money out of the pocketbook at the skating rink Monday afternoon. They will save trouble by returning same to Star office. adv. 3t

WITH THE SUPERVISORS

REPRESENTATIVE OF INSURANCE COMPANY DINES BLANKET FORM OF POLICY FOR COUNTY.

Board Votes to Lay Matter on Table After Speaker Answers Numerous Questions—Supervisors Organize as Board of County Canvassers.

Cooperstown, Nov. 15.—(Special)—Besides hearing petitions from several town boards concerning the levy of taxes for an insurance company, of which are summarized in a report of the committee on town accounts later, the county legislature today heard a representative of an insurance company advocate the adoption of a blanket form of policy instead of separate compensation insurance policies now carried by the individual towns.

The proposed plan was of especial value on two grounds, the speaker pointed out: (1) the saving of labor and (2) a probable reduction in rate. Under the first heading it was pointed out that the existence of different expiration dates, policies in different companies, etc., entailed a lot of work which might be avoided under the blanket policy. As to the reduction of rate, it was the opinion of the speaker that this might amount to ten or twenty per cent in a county like Otsego. To bring this about a certain minimum of insurance must be carried which could be reached by a few towns individually but in which all would benefit under a blanket policy. Under the plan, any risk that shows a "good experience" that is, few accidents, would secure a new and lower rate at the end of eighteen months. Many questions were propounded by the members and answered, after which upon the motion of R. J. Smith it was voted that the matter be laid upon the table.

This afternoon the members met at the clerk's office and organized a board of county canvassers by electing C. P. Post, chairman and O. W. Hintermeister clerk. The following committee on canvass was appointed: Messrs. Boakes, Hadsell and Hunt.

ROUNDOUT CREEK BRIDGE

New Structure, Opening This Month, Will Supersede Famous Chain Ferry.

Kingsston, Nov. 15.—With the formal opening of the new Roundout Creek Bridge, here, November 22, motorists will be able to travel from Jersey City to Buffalo, passing along the west shore of the Hudson River, without being obliged to use a ferry anywhere along the route and the last gap in the way across the Empire State will have been bridged.

The new bridge will supersede the famous old chain-ferry, Riverside, which has crossed the waters of Roundout Creek for nearly a century, and which is known to thousands of automobile tourists. The ferry operates with a small power engine, runs on a chain which prevents it losing its way in the live minutes voyage from shore to shore, has no pilot or steering wheel, and carries a crew of two men in addition to the captain whose chief function is the collection of fares.

The capacity of the ferry is four large or six small automobiles. Summer traffic along the route is exceptionally heavy, and it is no unusual occurrence for a string of 50 to 150 cars to assemble on either side of the creek waiting its turn to be ferried across. Motorists who have favored the West Shore route have frequently been obliged to wait from one to six hours to be borne across the creek.

Construction of the new bridge was begun in 1919, the contract being laid by former Governor Alfred E. Smith on September 16, that year. The opening of the bridge on November 22 will be celebrated in Kingsston. A dinner to which Governor

Miller, former Governor Smith, State Highway Commissioner Sisson and his predecessor Colonel Frederick Stuart Green, mayors of New York state cities and officials of automobile associations have been invited, will be a feature. There will also be a parade and display of fireworks.

RETURNS WITH FINE BUCK.

Attorney Lee D. VanWoert kills One Near Northwest Bay, Lake George. Attorney Lee D. VanWoert arrived home yesterday at noon from a week's stay in camp, back of Northwest Bay, on Lake George. He brought with him a fine buck which he had the good fortune to shoot while in camp. The buck was one display at the market of Kenney Bros. on Dietz street yesterday afternoon and was admired by many.

Mr. VanWoert says that many hunters have an impression that deer are not to be found so close to civilization, but that since the use of dogs has been prohibited the deer come closer to the inhabited sections. Mr. VanWoert is of the opinion that the law which permits the killing of one buck should be amended to permit the killing of one deer, male or female. He quotes a guide in the territory which he visited as saying that there were no less than 10 carcasses of deer lying about that section which had been shot in efforts to secure a buck and then left for fear of apprehension. Some of them had been robbed of one quarter for venison and others were intact save for the ravages of the vermin.

K. OF C. AND WELFARE WORK.

Knights of Columbus spend $2,715.659 to Educate and Assist Soldiers. The Knights of Columbus have expended $2,715,659.02 during the past twelve months on welfare work for disabled soldiers and former service men, according to a report published in New York.

For educational work $2,341,479.38 was spent, "establishing a record in provision of free educational facilities under the management of a single organization for veterans' welfare." More than 75,000 veterans received free training in 130 schools conducted by the order in 125 cities of the country.

Hospital service absorbed $202,533.61, mainly for the provision of tobacco and candy and for athletics, entertainment and other forms of recreation in more than fifty hospitals for disabled men. On employment service $171,594.63 was expended.

ENJOYABLE DANCE.

Given by P. H. C. Degree Team at Municipal Hall Last Evening.

Upwards of 50 couples were in attendance at a social dance given at Municipal hall last evening, the hosts of the evening being the degree team of the Protected Home Circle, who made the occasion one of enjoyment for all present. Music was furnished by Cy's Harmony Four and the merry dancers evidenced their appreciation of the music by numerous encores. The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Merritt Vincent as chairman and Miss Libbie Terrell and Mrs. Louis Thayer.

Fallen Leaves in Gutter.

Complaint has recently been made by citizens relative to the quantities of dead leaves which have been raked out from lawns upon the streets and allowed to remain there. These leaves, sodden with rain or melted snow, may eventually be the cause of much trouble, blocking manholes and clogging gutters and causing overflows upon streets and sidewalks. It is suggested that each citizen be a committee of one, so far as his own property is concerned, to make and keep the gutters clean this fall in front of his premises.

Would You Do It?

You read about hopped hair, movie stars, Babe Ruth and the football team—rot and cussiness that many newspapers print, don't you? You watch for and look at pictures of society fools, in scant dress at the beaches, in the Sunday papers, don't you? Yes, I know you do. Well, I'm thinking of going down on Main street, standing on my head and kick and holler, in order to get the newspapers to tell you about me. I guess that is the only way to wake you up as to how Uncle Sam and the state helps me to give all little fellows a fair chance and square deal and play the live and let live game. NO FUNDS AVAILABLE

TO MEET POLICE DEPARTMENT EXPENSES FOR MONTH OF DECEMBER.

Common Council Fails to Act on Request of Commission for $800 Additional and for Authority to Increase Salaries of Chief and Sergeant — Plans for Addition to Hoffman Building Approved.

Failure of the common council to appropriate the $800 additional needed to finance the police department for the balance of the year as requested by the commission will leave the latter in a quandary as to what course to pursue during the month of December. It is probable, however, that some solution will be reached before the next meeting of the council on December 6.

The matter came before the council at the regular meeting last night, at which Mayor Ceperley and all aldermen were present, when resolutions passed at a meeting of the police commission held yesterday afternoon were presented for approval. The commission asked the council to approve the following resolutions:

Making the salary of the chief of police $1,680 from January 1, next. Providing that the department hereafter consist of a chief, a sergeant and six patrolmen.

Placing $800 to the credit of the police commission from the general fund.

These, with a resolution presented at the previous meeting making the salary of the police sergeant $125 per month from January 1, next, were brought up for action.

The condition of the general fund and the wisdom of any action increasing salaries with a new council approaching with power to fix budgets were discussed but no action was taken upon the requests.

Plans for Addition.

Plans were submitted by W. H. Hoffman for a fire proof addition to the rear of his building, 224 Main street, for his own business and in the absence of the fire chief a resolution was passed consenting to the erection of the addition, which plans have been approved by the fire chief.

Mayor Ceperley stated that some repairs are being made to the front of a store in the Reynolds block, which were desired completed at once. He stated that he had given consent for the work to proceed after Fire Chief Choate had approved the plans which create no additional fire risk.

Market Days Reduced.

J. Henry Potter, superintendent of the Public market, reported that in his judgment there will be no necessity for conducting the market on Wednesdays after the present month. His recommendation of the committee Clerk Closs was instructed to notify Mr. Potter to announce that after next week, the market will be open on Saturdays only.

Funds Transferred.

At the request of the park commission the sum of $155.15 paid into the general fund from the sale of hay, pasture, etc., from parks was ordered credited to the park budget.

It appearing that the park improvement fund created by vote of the taxpayers had been insufficient to construct approaches and complete the bridge over the Oneonta creek at the Spruce street entrance to Wilber park and that assurances having been given that funds would be provided to complete the undertaking and the park commission certifying that $753.71 additional is needed to meet the cost, that amount was ordered transferred from the general to the park improvement fund.

After adding bills for current expenses and other minor matters the council adjourned.

Real Estate Transaction.

Coland G. Eldred has sold his home farm of 65 acres, located on trolley about half way between West Oneonta and Laurens, with stock, crops, team and tools to Rice Brothers of Kortright. He gives possession about December fifteenth. The sale was made by Charles N. Murdoch, 7 Ford avenue, Oneonta.

Issac Finkle has sold the double house, located at 59 River street to John Rom of 11 Ponda avenue. Possession given Nov. 15th. The sale was made by Hay & Howland.

Hay & Howland have sold their double house located at 12 Mosher avenue to David Hotelling. Mr. Hotelling now occupies part of the house.

Four Societies Hold Meetings.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church held a meeting at the church parlors at 2:30 yesterday afternoon at which the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Catherine Blend.
Secretary—Mrs. A. E. Nye.
Treasurer—Mrs. D. A. Diefendorf.

Following the meeting of the Aid society there were meetings of the Woman's Missionary society, the World Wide Guild and the Crusaders. There was a good attendance at each of the meetings and much interest was manifested in the programs as given. Later a supper, in which all participated, was held in the church parlors.

STATE DAIRYMEN MEET

HUNDREDS OF THEM ASSEMBLED AT STATE ARMORY TONIGHT.

Opening Program Includes One Act Playlet, Address by Commissioner Pryke and Moving Pictures of Dairy Scenes — Subsequent Proceedings and Dairy Exhibits.

When the doors of the State armory open shortly after 7 o'clock this evening to admit hundreds of visiting dairymen and citizens of Oneonta to the sight of one of the fullest arrays of dairy machinery, appliances and feeds ever assembled in one building, the forty-fifth annual convention of the New York State Dairymen's association will get under way for two previous largest and most successful meetings.

Beginning at 8 o'clock, following a concert by Volcott's orchestra rendered while the visitors are looking over the various exhibits, the opening session called to order by President Harold J. Richardson of Lowville will discuss a program which is undoubtedly the best, in the ability of its speaker, to make the order of arrangement, that the association has ever employed, and a program which will require lasting credit on Secretary Thomas E. Tiquin of Albany, whose services to the organization have been, since 1901, almost continuous.

In addition to the several hundred dairymen and exhibitors expected at the meeting, as indicated by arrival in the city last evening of scores of the visitors, a large number of Oneontans are expected to throng to the armory this evening to join with the dairymen in opening their convention and to give them a hearty welcome to this city.

A playlet, "The Neighbors," by Zona Gale, will be presented by the Dramatic club of Oneonta High school as the first number on the program. This one-act comedy is certain to please and should provide much commendation to the youthful actors and actresses and to Miss Bessie R. Cowan, who will direct the play.

Mayor A. E. Ceperley will officially welcome the association and the dairymen to Oneonta, and the response will be made by President Richardson for the association. The main address of the evening will be made by Commissioner of Farms and Markets, Dean H. E. Cook of New York city and Judge A. L. Kellogg. These tickets, which go for the cost per plate of $1.50, must be obtained before 6 o'clock this evening at the Chamber offices, as Secretary Tiquin cannot hold the reservations for local residents after that hour.

Arrangement for entertaining the wives of visiting dairymen at an "open house" at the Women's club on Thursday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock, was effected yesterday following a conference between Mrs. M. C. Hemstreet, president of the club, and Mayor Ceperley and E. W. Elmore representing the Chamber of Commerce committee. Tea will be served at the club house, followed by community singing and the regular program. Plans are being made to furnish plenty of enjoyment for the women visitors to relieve the monotony of the convention details in which their husbands will doubtless be interested.

A full number of Oneontans is expected to be at the banquet Thursday night at the Hotel Oneonta, and thirty of the fifty tickets allotted have already been reserved at the Chamber of Commerce by citizens interested in hearing the address by Speaker H. Edmund Machen of the Assembly. Dr. Eugene H. Porter, commissioner of Foods and Markets, Dean H. E. Cook of New York city and Judge A. L. Kellogg. These tickets, which go for the cost per plate of $1.50, must be obtained before 6 o'clock this evening at the Chamber offices, as Secretary Tiquin cannot hold the reservations for local residents after that hour.

Saving of rest of evening at the booths at the State armory this evening and at other sessions of the convention will be a big feature and an entirely new one for the State Dairymen's association. Secretary Tiquin has arranged for two local women to dispense these products of Otsego county dairies free of charge, as an educational feature of the convention. Besides these two booths, the secretary's booth at the entrance to the armory auditorium, also under the supervision of Mr. Tiquin, will furnish all information regarding exhibits, receive membership applications and dues, and sell banquet tickets, under the direction of Miss Mildred E. Tiquin, daughter of the secretary, and Miss Mary Dugan of Albany.

Exhibits which will be displayed at the armory tonight and throughout the convention, and the erection of the

HALSTEAD GETS BIG BUCK.

Brings Home 218-Pounder as Result of Sojourn in the North Woods.

John A. Halstead of 5 Elgin street has returned from a two weeks' hunting trip in the North Woods, bringing with him one of the largest bucks ever shot in the section of the woods where he was located. It weighed 218 pounds, hog dressed, five days after he shot it. It had a fine head, with six points.

Ray Baldwin, also of this city, accompanied Mr. Halstead. They were met at Forestport by John B. Todd of Ulster and the party went to William McCarthy's camp on Tug hill for their hunt. Mr. Halstead states that hunting was unusually good, deer and smaller game, especially partridges, being very plentiful. The Oneonta men were told in their praise of the hospitality of the McCarthy camp and that they had never enjoyed a better outing.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

OF CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA, FORMERLY DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA.

Members of Court Regina and Friends Partake of Excellent Turkey Dinner and Listen to Pleasing Program at B. of R. T. Hall, Observing Eighth Anniversary of Court.

Last evening was the eighth anniversary of the establishment of Court Regina, Catholic Daughters of America, formerly the Daughters of Isabella, and in celebration of the occasion, one hundred and more members and friends gathered at B. of R. T. hall and partook of a turkey dinner, following which a choice musical program was rendered to the keen delight of all. The occasion was one of the happiest in the history of the organization and much credit is due to Mrs. William I. LaReau, the grand regent, who had the arrangements in charge, the committee on program, consisting of Mrs. Rose Long and Miss Gertrude Blanchard, and the initiation committee, Miss Dora Gilman and Mrs. Mary Wendall.

The members and friends gathered at the hall at about 8 o'clock, and after an hour of sociability were seated about well laden tables. The dinner was prepared and served by George Noble of the Pioneer restaurant and the ladies were enthusiastic in praise both of the abundance and excellence of the feast.

Following the feasting, Mrs. LaReau, the grand regent, as toastmistress, extended hearty greetings to the guests of the evening and told briefly of the success of the organization. She was followed by J. J. Hurley, who, speaking in behalf of the Knights of Columbus, gave an interesting talk upon the importance of co-operation and united effort. Later the following program was rendered to the delight of all:

Solo—Forgotten, Mrs. Laura Norton.
Duet—Piano and Violin. Misses Alice Fagan and Louise Geary.
Irish Selections. Mrs. Rose Long and Arthur Todd.
Dance—Irish Reel. Mrs. Brady and Mrs. Farnell.
Piano Solo. Mrs. Rose Long.

Oneonta County Tuberculosis Committee Planning Intensive Campaign For Sale of Christmas Seals—Mrs. Ralph Birdsell of Cooperstown Named as County Campaign Director at Meeting of Committee Yesterday—Hope to Secure Sufficient Funds for Summer Camp for Tubercular Children.

Believing that there is at the present time more need for anti-tuberculosis work than ever before because of the fact that business uncertainty has borne most heavily upon the defenseless in every community, particularly upon those suffering from the ravages of the white plague, the Oneonta County Tuberculosis committee is planning an intensive campaign for the sale of Christmas seals this year. Not only will the sale of Christmas seals provide funds to carry on the every day work of the committee but it is also hoped this year to realize a sufficient amount to make possible a summer camp for tubercular children. It is thought that $1,000 will provide for the care and medical treatment of twenty-five or thirty little sufferers for three months and it is earnestly hoped by the committee that this year's campaign will provide that amount above the sum needed for the regular work.

A meeting of the committee was held yesterday at the Citizens' bank at which Mrs. Ralph Birdsell of Cooperstown was named as County Christmas Seal Campaign Director. Mrs. Birdsell has long been interested in anti-tuberculosis work in the county and in her committee feels that they have named a director who will make the campaign a conspicuous success. Edwin R. Moore of this city was named as county publicity director.

Various other matters of importance concerning the campaign were discussed and it was decided to direct the force of the drive more against the other sections of the county than against Oneonta because of the Community Chest campaign in the city. Many subscribers to the Chest designated the Tuberculosis committee for a part of their contributions and to those persons seals will be sent gratis.

Miss Carrie Fishery of the State Christmas Seal Campaign staff was in the city Monday conferring with Miss Short, executive secretary of the county committee, and others interested in the work and she gave it as her opinion that the campaign for Oneonta had been well planned. She stated that the work of organizing the Christmas seal campaign in the state as a whole was well under way and that it was assured that New York would keep the record of selling more seals than any other state in the Union.

A large supply of the seals has been received by Miss Short and the work of the campaign will be started soon after Thanksgiving. Seals will be sent out in former years to those who have purchased them before, except to those who contributed to the work through the Community Chest and they will also be placed on sale at conveniently located places. The work will be vigorously pushed from Thanksgiving until after Christmas and it is confidently hoped by the committee that it will result in the sale of a sufficiently large quantity of the "White Plague Chasers" to make possible the extension of the work for the coming year.

MARY ALDEN and CULLEN LANDIS in "THE OLD NEST"
by RUPERT HUGHES A GOLDWYN Pict
ture...directed by REGINALD BARKER

MARY ALDEN

ANOTHER type of film mother, yet one which has many traits and qualities in common with all real and lovable mothers, is Mary Alden, whose memorable characterization in "The Old Nest" had much to do with creating the sympathy and heart-interest of that "old folks" picture. Mary Alden gives us a mother of staunchness and capability—a mother who instinctively understands the best way to raise children and to care for them and who can always be trusted in emergencies. We know without having tasted them, that the preserves she puts up and the cakes she bakes are "like mother used to make" and we are sure that she always leaves a little extra frosting in the bowl for the children to lick. If anyone were asked to describe her maternal characterizations with a single adjective, the answer would probably be: "She's the 'old fashioned' mother!"

BIG EVENT AT DAVENPORT

Oneonta Rebels to Assist in Installation of Charlotte Valley Lodge.

Davenport, Nov. 15.—One of the biggest social events of the season will take place here Friday, when a Rebekah lodge will be organized by the wives of local Odd Fellows. The lodge has been in the process of formation for several months, but the formal inauguration will take place Friday. The ladies have already received their official charter, designating the lodge as Charlotte Valley Rebekah Lodge, No. 393.

The district deputy president from Arkville is expected to be present at the "dinner" Friday. At a session to be held in Odd Fellows' hall in the afternoon, the first officers of the lodge will be formally installed. In the evening there will be a sumptuous banquet in the hall following which the degree team of the Royal Rebekah lodge at Oneonta will put on the degree work, with a class of more than 30 candidates. Large delegations are expected from Oneonta, Hiram and Arkville, and the occasion will be memorable for Charlotte Valley lodge.

Happy Day at Rathbun Home

Although November 11 was celebrated throughout the land as Armistice Day, the day took on a special significance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Rathbun in West Kortright. It was Mrs. Rathbun's eighteenth birthday and the day was brightened when the stock appeared with a bouncing baby daughter. The mother, with her remembered as Miss Ruth Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hill of West Kortright. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Laverne W. Graig of Davenport are receiving congratulations over the birth on November 12, of a 7½ pound daughter, who has been named Elizabeth J.

GERTRUDE CROSBY COMPANY

At High School Auditorium Wednesday Evening, November 16.

The second number of the Normal and Public School Lecture and Musical course is to be given by this distinguished company. Its personnel is as follows:

Gertrude Crosby, reader, is one of the most popular entertainers. She has had endless experience before all types of audiences, for she has traveled the entire United States, Panama, France and England. She is not to be confused with the ordinary reader as her work is entirely individual. Her charm lies in a vivacious personality, unusual ability and originality. She presents clever stories, and sustained songs. Her "Baseball Song" is one of the most fascinating bits of realism in the business.

Miss Crosby is assisted by Frank Cornwell, baritone and violinist, and Louise Thompson, pianist and soprano. Reservation for seats may be made by those who hold season tickets, or additional charges at the store of Ralph W. Murdoch, Oneonta hotel block, Wednesday after 8 a. m. No sale.

"SOME GIRL" IS RIGHT

Clever Musical Comedy Pleases Large Audience at Oneonta Theatre Last Evening.

It is a certainty that Gudrun Walberg is not a Marilyn Miller nor is Tom Crowley a Bert Williams or an Eddie Cantor, but nevertheless the clever twain, ably assisted by a score of other performers, sang and danced out the plot of "Some Girl" to the entire satisfaction of the capacity crowd that witnessed the musical comedy at the Oneonta theatre last evening. That it was a good show was the verdict of all. The dancing was unusually clever, the singing of good quality, and the acting better than is usually seen in a musical comedy. But best of all the production was clean. There was no suggestiveness in the lines or in the acting and the comedy was of the type characterized in New York papers as "safe to let your daughter see."

Miss Walberg, an exceptionally clever exponent of the dance, was the star of the production. She is a Norwegian whom we fear will not long be allowed to travel with a road company. Her performance last evening was easily up to New York standards. Tom Crowley, Marguerite Williams, Eddie Walkup and Allan Carter were others who pleased last evening.
